

Facing the Facts

The representative of a big company died recently in the West at the age of seventy years.

He left an estate of only $800. The company for which he had worked over 40 years paid his funeral expenses. And yet, during all those years his salary had ranged from $100 to $400 monthly. He had spent as he went.

Ten dollars a month saved during the years of his employment, deposited in a savings bank at 4 per cent would have given him over $7,000 at his death. A big result from a little saving.

Do you spend as you go? If you do face the facts. The lesson is plain.

Sounds Like Him

We strongly suspect from the following item that the Winsted wonder reporter has emigrated to Kansas. Says the Topeka Capital: On going into his hen house one day a local farmer found a snake trapped in the handle of a jug. The snake had evidently swallowed an egg, then crawled through the jug handle as far as the egg would permit, then swallowed another egg thereby trapping himself.—Boston Transcript.

ADAMANT

More Pro Tem In 'Em

The malapropositor of a produce store tried the other day to sell a customer beans when she wanted peas. "There's more pro tem in beans, ma'am," he argued.

Could he possibly have meant for the time being?—Boston Transcript.

Veteran of Civil War Still Hale and Hearty

"To say that I feel twenty-five years younger, twenty-five years healthier and twenty-five years stronger expresses what Tanlac has done for me better than any other way I can put it," said George D. Shaw, veteran of the Civil War, who now lives at 321 Walnut street, Springfield, Mass.

"I am now seventy-eight years old and I don't hesitate to say I have never known a medicine to equal Tanlac. For fifteen years I was subject to attacks of indigestion that were so bad at times I would have to lay up for a week or two. For a long time I lived on crackers and milk alone as nothing else agreed with me.

"When I started on Tanlac I weighed only one hundred and seventeen pounds and my days were thought to be numbered. I've been so wonderfully built up, I now weigh one hundred and forty-three pounds and my stomach is as sound as a dollar. In fact, I believe I could eat the old army rations again without it hurting me in the least.

"I never miss a chance of saying a good word for Tanlac and I would like to urge the boys of the 'Sixties' who are not feeling right to give it a trial, for I am sure it would put them in line again just as it has me. For a man of my age to have no physical ailment, to be well and strong and enjoy life as he did twenty-five years ago, is certainly something to be thankful for and there is nothing too good I can say for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Barre by Barre Drug Co., in Groton by G. C. Smith, in Marshfield by E. W. Gilman, and in Plainfield by E. F. Leavitt.—Adv.
